

Leadership Lessons from the Office

Simply the best business and personal development from David Brent and Peter Cook ...

Do you love or loathe the BBC TV series 'THE OFFICE'? Irrespective of this, do you believe that the lessons are awfully funny and relevant as a much more 'sticky' way of learning business and personal development?

We offer a unique programme of workshops designed to fit into busy lives, combining excerpts from 'The Office' with our own talents in Business Leadership and Personal Development. This ensures that your staff actually use the lessons learned in the short and long term for unbeatable performance. The Office covers a wide range of subjects such as:

- Motivation and leadership
- HR skills e.g. staff appraisals, grievance and redundancy
- Enterprise, innovation and creativity
- Business strategy and operations management
- Marketing and sales
- Coaching, counselling and conflict management
- Teamwork and collaboration
- Authenticity and humanity in business

You get an uplifting, thought provoking, intelligent, tailored, bite sized piece of sticky learning at your next event. The journey will be both intelligent and more enjoyable than the usual offerings, appealing to all the senses. Peter Cook personally delivers these events, with extensive real world experience in business and management, combined with his skills as an MBA level tutor and acclaimed business author. Our clients include The NHS, Pfizer, County Councils, Siemens, Unilever, Ashridge Management College and the Chartered Management Institute, to name but a few.

Let's talk.
